- Pick 1 Website with good UI/UX and write 1 paragraph explaining why.

X has a great user experience because it is fast and easy to use. The layout is clean, so you can quickly read posts and view pictures as you scroll. Every post has simple icons right underneath it, which lets you like, reply, repost, or save content with just one tap. Also, switching between what is popular and posts from people you follow is easy thanks to two simple tabs at the top of the screen.

- Pick 1 Website with bad UI/UX and write 1 paragraph explaining why.

Friendster had bad UI/UX because it was very slow and hard to use. The web pages took a long time to load and often crashed, which made browsing profiles and messaging friends very frustrating. It also lacked a single main feed for updates, so users had to manually click on each friend's profile to see new photos or posts. Because the site was slow, confusing to navigate, and broke down frequently, people stopped using it.
